ALLOWANCE

1. Claims 1-3 and 12-20 are amended. Claims 1-20 are presented for further examination.
2. The rejection under 35 U.S.C. § 112, second paragraph is withdrawn in view of the amendment. For the reasons stated below, claims 1-20 are allowed.
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Claims 1, 12, and 20 as amended distinguish themselves over the prior art by delineating a method, storage medium, and device for communicating function calls and event notification between a platform independent language application and a native language application. An important feature of the independent claims include the platform independent language application passing an event port number identifying an event port of the platform independent language application and a command port number identifying a command port of the platform independent language application to the native language application; the native language application subsequently opens an event stream on the event port and a function call stream to the command port.

With the current amendment clarifying the functionality of event port and the command port and in combination with the other features of the applications, the claims show a patentable distinction over the prior art. Furthermore, the prior art gives no indication that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have configured a method or device for communication functional calls and event notifications in the fashion presented in the independent claims.

Art Unit: 2452

Claims 2-11 and 13-19 are allowed due to their dependence on independent claims 1, 12, and 20.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

See attached PTO-892.
